YOUR BODY

Teens in California have the right to:

- Get testing and treatment for STIs, including HIV
- Access birth control, including emergency contraception
- Access pregnancy testing and prenatal care
- Seek pregnancy options counseling and abortion services

YOUR RIGHTS

- If you are 12 or older, you do not need anyone else's permission to access these services. You can decide for yourself, and you should expect that all information you share in a clinic will be kept confidential unless you decide to share it.
- For help finding a clinic that's right for you, visit your school social worker or school nurse. High school students visit your school Wellness Center, or go to sfwellness.org
